Introducing Restaurant Connection

Acrobat Outsourcing's Fresh Take on Restaurant Staffing Services

There's never a dull moment at Acrobat Outsourcing. We are always looking for new opportunities to help our clients succeed in their businesses, and the restaurant industry is no exception. The former Culinary Outsourcing Services (COS) program has morphed into the new and improved Restaurant Connection, offering a full breadth of staffing services to help restaurant managers succeed.

Here are some highlights:

- Recruiting Services: Our proven screening and interview process ensures the best match for all temporary and permanent restaurant personnel needs -- from executive chefs to servers to dishwashers. Several screening and recruiting packages are available, depending on level of services needed and type of position to be filled.
- Temporary Staffing Services: To ensure that we can fulfill any variety of staffing needs, we carefully screen, test and train each of our ready-to-hire employees before sending them on assignment. With a database of over 3,000 qualified staff, we promise the right employee for the job. It's our guarantee.
- Test drive an employee: Have new personnel on our payroll before hiring them. Many times when an employee is hired, employers aren't sure what they are getting until they have worked for a period of time. We will pay the employee, provide all the necessary workers'

- Food Service Training & Certifications: Acrobat Outsourcing has made a commitment to providing effective and responsible food service safety and beverage training programs for our employees, as well as for our clients' employees upon request. Our team of certified trainers conduct programs on site at our San Francisco headquarters for Food Services Industry Certification Training, TIPS, ServSafe and LEAD and more.

Restaurant Connection was officially launched at the 2010 SF Chefs. Food. Wine. festival this summer, where event-goers enjoyed a taste of the impeccable service our professional restaurant staff has to offer. Branding News:

New Look, New Slogan, New Web Site...oh my!

Acrobat Outsourcing has grown exponentially over the last five years. Throughout each phase of growth, we make it a priority to take the necessary marketing and communications steps to ensure that our valued customers have the tools they need to continue to stay updated and informed. Now, along with a new company name to better represent the expanded menu of staffing and related services we offer, we are excited to introduce our new company slogan and web site!

When we started to brainstorm tagline ideas with our marketing team, we knew it wasn't going to be easy to come up with a line that represents what we do best, shows off a bit of our personality and inspires our audience...ideally in 5 words or less! Needless to say, several months and pages of tagline possibilities later, we knew that "We Can Staff It!" was just the line to support our company name. No matter what your staffing need, we are determined and confident we can help.

Check out our new web site!

Our new web site is officially open for your viewing pleasure, complete with an updated look and improved content organization to better serve you. Check us out at www.acrobatoutsourcing.com

We will continue to roll out new web enhancements and features throughout the coming months, so stay tuned for more great ways to experience Acrobat

Outsourcing online.

We look forward to hearing what you think!
