Acrobat Outsourcing Expands its Southern California Footprint: "Hooray for Hollywood!"

Time to buy some new shades and dust off our golf shoes! Building off our success in San Diego, Acrobat couldn't be more thrilled to announce that our plans for expansion to Los Angeles are near completion. Dedicated account managers experienced in the market will be at our new "SoCal" office as soon as next month (address tba), so we can ensure that the excellent customer service we have worked so hard to establish in our existing markets can seamlessly extend to our brand new and potential Los Angeles and Orange County clients – from golf and country clubs to Fortune 500s.

In the words of Marc Caplan, our San Diego business development manager: "It's a very exciting time. Our deep experience with servicing both corporate and social clients, coupled with the customized employee retention and training programs we have put in place to retain the 'best of the best' front- and back-of-house staff, are what truly differentiates us from other food service and hospitality staffing services. It's what has fueled our success in the San Diego market and I have no doubt our friends in Los Angeles will be equally receptive to what we have to offer."

So spread the word to your friends in Hollywood and along the 405 – Acrobat is coming to town!
Sincerely,
