Acrobat Outsourcing Receives "2010 Leading Provider of the Western U.S."

Award From National Independent Research Firm

Acrobat Outsourcing is the only staffing agency to receive Goldline Research's coveted professional services award.

SAN FRANCISCO, CA - November 10, 2010 - As seen in the August 2010 issue of Forbes Magazine, Acrobat Outsourcing has been selected as a 2010 Leading Provider of the Western United States by independent research firm, Goldline Research. For the third year in a row, Acrobat Outsourcing has been chosen among thousands of staffing agencies as the top professional service provider in its category.

"It is truly an honor to be the exclusive staffing agency recipient of this nationally-recognized award for the third year running", said Steve Scher, Chief Executive Officer, Acrobat Outsourcing. "We have worked hard to position ourselves in the marketplace as a one-stop-shop for the food service and hospitality industry's staffing needs, and we couldn't be more proud to be recognized for the breadth and quality of services we provide to our clients."

For the past five years, Acrobat has specialized in temporary and permanent staffing solutions for Bay Area-based food service, hospitality and related industries, and continues to expand its offerings throughout California to further support the current needs of businesses in today's economy.
